Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Reply

1. This is in response to the Reply filed 1/10/2005.
2. Claims 19-38 are currently pending in this application. Claim 38 has been newly added.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 19-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Heyden et al. (US Pat. 3,551,794).

Heyden teaches a method for generating a magnetic field to act on a fluid moving through a conduit, the method comprising the use of a pair of coils (12, 18) or permanent magnets for generating a first magnetic field and a pair of coils (20, 26 or 22, 24) with a ferromagnetic core to generate a second magnetic field; wherein the magnitude and direction of the resultant magnetic field is varied over time, forming varying angles with the direction of the flow of the liquid. Heyden further teaches a sinusoidal electrical current is applied to the coils, shifted in 90° phase (II/2) and the amplitude and frequency can be kept constant or varied. (See Figs. 1-4, 6-10; col. 5-10).

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 1/10/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants contend that Vander Heyden differs from the presently claimed invention because the reference does not teach a method of creating stereochemical deformations or of producing a magnetic field capable of creating such deformations. However, since the reference teaches the same steps of generating magnetic fields with varying amplitude, the method disclosed by Vander Heyden would inherently have the effects as presently claimed. Moreover, it has been known within the skill in the art that in the presence of an external magnetic field, the electrons of a molecule circulate about the direction of the applied magnetic field, causing a small magnetic field at the nucleus that opposes the external magnetic field. The electron density around each nucleus in a molecule varies according to the types of nuclei and bonds in the molecule. Thus an external magnetic field can cause a stereochemical change in the molecule by shifting the electron density in the molecule. Hence, Vander Heyden anticipates the presently claimed invention.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
